“Description of the Behavior of Using Personal Protective Equipment among Employees at the PT Sukosari Workshop. Rekaindo Global Jasa Madiun 2024”

77 pages + 11 tables + 7 pictures + 7 attachments

Personal protective equipment (PPE) is a device capable of protecting an individual by isolating part or all of their body from potential hazards at the workplace. Employers are required to provide APD to workers and must be given free of charge. This protective equipment serves to safeguard the safety of both the workers themselves and those around them, thereby reducing the risk of accidents and exposure to diseases. PT. Rail Industry (Limited Liability Company), commonly abbreviated as INKA, is a state-owned Indonesian company engaged in the production of transportation infrastructure, primarily focusing on rail transport. This company has launched various products, including electric rail trains (KRL), trains, railbuses, and others
